College History

GEOS Auckland was established in 1984 and is one of the oldest private English language colleges in New Zealand. GEOS Auckland is also a Teacher Training centre with programmes for native and non-native English speakers.

College Location

The college is located in the city centre in a quiet square next to St Patrick's Cathedral. It is 3 minutes walk from Queen street and the main city shopping area and just around the corner from all the major bus stops. GEOS Auckland is only 5 minutes walk from the ferry terminal where students can catch boats to the North Shore and other places around the harbour and Hauraki Gulf.

Students

Students aged from 11 years and upwards come from all over the world. They come to improve their general English skills or to prepare for international examinations such as IELTS or the Cambridge main suite exams. Those interested in pursuing a career in English teaching can join LIFT or TESOL courses as preparation for the Cambridge and TKT exam. Many students elect to combine study and travel by using the NZ Superlink scheme to transfer between the three New Zealand campuses. Students are placed in classes appropriate to their English level.
